

Access Follett Discover in Blackboard

All faculty, including those teaching online classes, should submit their textbook and course material adoptions to the GW bookstore to comply with the Higher Education Opportunity Act. If no materials are needed, you should still report that “no text is required.” In adopting texts and materials with the bookstore, you are not committing students to buy from them in any way, only sharing the required materials so they can assess costs. You can access Follett Discover at go.gwu.edu/coursematerials or in a Blackboard course using following the following steps:

1. Login to Blackboard and open a course. You can access Follett Discover in any Blackboard course.
